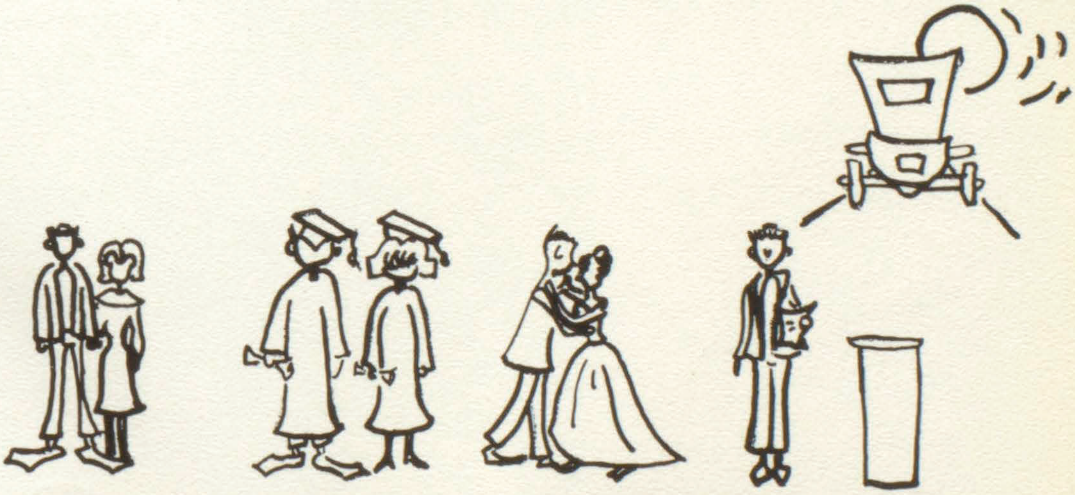
HENDERSON, NEVADA
DOES REVIEW FOR YOU
BETWEEN THESE COVERS
OF THE EL LOBO
"THAT WONDERFUL YEAR
1961, '62"



DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of 1962, fondly and gratefully dedicate this volume of the El Lobo to Mrs. Kathryn Diane Bergemeyer . . . for her zealous energy and for her warm responsiveness far beyond the summons of her vocation to aid the students at Basic High School as well as the community.

To Diane,
with our sincere
wishes for all happiness
in the future.

FOREWORD . . .

Thus we graduate. We are being hurled at the feet of the World. Our eyes are open wide and consciously staring at that which is before us. We stand there singularly, facing this formidable unknown with humility and pride.

Our souls are directed toward our Creator; our minds are thinking of those accomplishments yet to come; our hearts are pulsating with that ever-present hope.

Thoughts and emotions are nebulous. There are chasms ahead of us on the seemingly dark roads of the future into which we could plunge without a fraction of warning.

Our selves are illuminated as we walk steadily into the misty future. The light cuts the darkness only a short direct distance. The light behind us has dimmed to glow merely as a fragment upon our minds.

Our guide, that of past education, intellectually, socially, spiritually, emotionally, physically wears the crisp white robe of youth.

We have learned of grace and beauty; we have learned of love, hate, fear, sorrow, compassion, jealousy; we have learned of faith, of patriotism, of integrity, of honesty; we have learned of life and of death; we have learned of wrong and of right.

However, we realize that we have not reached the conclusion of our destiny, but rather have only begun to experience and infinite spectrum of knowledge. If we are to assume the responsibility of preserving and enhancing our heritage, then we have merely begun our labors.

Thus we graduate. "That Wonderful Year, 1961, '62" will soon be but a memory. A memory to serve, to guide, to encourage, and above all to inspire each through the years in his chosen field to endeavor.

FACULTY

JOHN A. DOOLEY

To the Class of 1962:

You are being graduated into a world wide situation in which the most insidious ideology which has ever threatened the freedom of man is steadily advancing. Soviet Communism seeks world domination so that it can eliminate free enterprise and private property. Free enterprise and private property are concerned with much, much more than mere material goods. Free enterprise involves the right of man,to determine his own destiny. Private property involves the right of man to have his own sanctuary here on earth. If these rights are lost, there will be no such thing as freedom.

American apathy, in relation to the insidious expansion of communism, is based upon a false concept. Too many Americans look to past experience for a solution to the problem. They feel that if the danger becomes too great we will somehow exert our great strength as we have in the past and subdue the threat. There is no past experience upon which we can depend. The possibility of nuclear war negates past experience. There may or may not be a nuclear war. We cannot ignore this dreaded possibility, and we must prepare for it. But, there is a war being waged against us right now, and too many of us don't realize it. It is a war of ideas. Treacherous, sly, crafty ideas are being used against us.

We have one, two, maybe ten years to counteract these ideas and their diabolic results. You must put the fresh enthusiasm of youth into this struggle. You must direct your efforts toward obtaining honest knowledge which can be blended into a pattern of ideas which will effectively counteract the ideas of communism. Otherwise you will be living in a corraled society, and you will be dictated to by a central committee in whose selection you will have no choice.

Respectfully yours,

John A. Dooley

THE WONDERFUL YEAR '62

A school year . . . one hundred and eighty-two days - wonderful days, happy days, exciting days. Athletics . . . the thrill of winning, the courage of defeat; Desertaires . . . ever perfect precision and strikingly beautiful; Wolves Band . . . half-time shows, creative, imaginitive and masterfully executed; Science Club . . . radioactive fallout; Future Teachers of America . . . "Can Johnny learn to read?"; Beta Alpha Omega . . . the joy of the better things in life; Usherettes . . . "Aisle seven, seat number two"; Lettermans Club . . . manly chest with the coveted "B"; Lobo News . . . "who is dating who?" - blonde, tall, dark and handsome. Club meetings - Mexico - look at the stars - FHA - GAA - FNA . . . the Chorus sings and the Pep drums roll. The Sophomore Reverse - The Junior Prom - and, the night of them all, The Senior Ball. Graduation - Pomp and Circumstance . . . your place in the world.

One hundred and eighty-two days - all fun - all play . . . not at all!! Classrooms . . . books to be read; texts to be mastered; themes to be written; problems to be solved; languages to be learned; experiments to perform; the history, ideals and freedoms of our great land to be understood and appreciated. Work - hard work, Honor Roll - scholastic achievement, a job well done, ability, distinction . . . the joy of joys - a Scholarship Won! All these - work and play - happiness and sorrow - success and failure . . . watching with hope the path yet to travel but pausing to turn for a last wistful glance over the shoulder at THE WONDERFUL YEAR OF '62.

Here and gone, that's what they say,
The joys and sorrows of yesterday.
And so our high school years flew by
As if we had just breathed a sigh.

That sigh contained the last four years
Of friendship, joys, work, and tears
To make the years ahead worthwhile,
And face the future with a smile.

Those years we shared, they were not wasted.
The knowledge and truth that we have tasted
Will lead to the wonders that are to come still,
Through our new endeavors and our lasting will.

Juniors, they say, are well on their way
To meet the demands of our world today.
We'll soon find out if we hold the key;
For, we're the class of '63.

We've had two years of high school life
Of fun and work, joy and strife;
And next year comes the final test
To see if we'll surpass the rest.

We look ahead with expectation
To taste the thrill of graduation -
To our senior year and happiness -
To be well on our way to future success.

We the sophomores have yet to face
The trials to which we set our pace.
We look ahead and breathe a sigh
And think toward our years at Basic High.

What will they hold? No one can say.
Perhaps they hold pleasures, work, and play;
But whatever the outcome, whatever the score,
Remember the class of '64.

When the day approaches, and we hear our call,
We'll go into the world and proclaim to them all,
"Of all the schools, from crown to crest,
Basic's the greatest in the West."

Wonderful year, '61-'62,
With wishes of luck we dedicate to you
Our dearest rememberance of four years gone by -
A warm toast to our school, our own Basic High.

Over the years let our memories roam
To our four years at Basic,
And then let us comb over the friends, the lessons, and such,
That make life at Basic enjoyable so much.

Leaving our old school, we wish to express
How important it was to our happiness.
And thinking this way, we want to wish, too,
The best to our old friends, to you and to you.

Various thoughts of four years gone past,
We think with amazement - gee, they went fast!
When freshmen, they lingered; when sophomores, we knew;
Our junior year coming, our senior year flew.

Everyday happenings cause us to see
Our future awaits us, and more and more
We are sharply aware
That the school days behind us are treasured and rare.

Sayonara is our final toast to our own Basic High School that we love most.
We must say goodbye and bid you adieu,
But you'll always hold something we'll never forget -
The teachers, the lessons, the friends we have met.
